POLITICS OF FRIENDSHIP

25.02. – ~~27.06.2021~~ extended until 27.06.2021

Over the past semester, as part of a seminar given by Tobias Zielony at Bielefeld University of Applied Sciences, students of photography have tackled theoretical and practical questions of care, based on Gabriele Winker's work "Care Revolution." What now, against the backdrop of covid, seems an acute situation in fact represents a central question for of our changing society: How are we to treat one another and what kind of society do we want to live in? As well as addressing topics including care, friendship and coexistence, the students faced specific problems related to the temporary paralysis of cultural and social life: What should you photograph if nothing happens? Given the severe restrictions on interpersonal connections during the pandemic, the need for expanded concepts of friendship seems more urgent than ever. The students make their contribution to that effort here, showing what it means to think beyond friendship and kinship, imagining new forms of togetherness. Their photo series and videos allow for intimate insights into family structures and demonstrate ways of communication while mentally moving through spaces which offer the potential for change.

The show changed every two weeks. From 03.06.2021 to 27.06.2021 all semester projects will be exhibited in the foyer of the Kunstverein Bielefeld.

The series is curated by Leonore Spemann.
